POLICY

The committee shall play an appropriate role in the university budgeting process, including long-range financial planning and recommendation of the annual budget to the Dean.

The budget committee serves in an advisory capacity to the Dean.

The budget committee is responsible for the examination of both the personnel and operating budgets as submitted by the various budget managers.

As BGSU Firelands uses a budget process independent of the BGSU main campus, the budget committee must examine all revenue streams available to the college and make carefully considered forecasts based on those revenue streams.

Recommends short term priorities and long-term goals for personnel requests.

When called upon, makes recommendations to the Dean on priorities within the personnel and operating budgets.
