On a separate page, respond to the following to the best of your ability

Essay:

Directions: Respond to the following quotation in an essay of 300 – 500 words. In your response, make sure that you build and defend an argument in favor of a clearly defined stance. Your stance should be thoughtfully supported with well-chosen reasons and evidence. Furthermore, your reasons and evidence probably should consider and address the ways in which your own values, background and experience figure into the stance that you adopt. Note that it is not necessary to research or refer to the texts from which the quote is taken; we are looking for original, personal responses to the quote.

Quotation: “To travel is to discover that everyone is wrong about other [places].” – Aldous Huxley

Additional Information:

If desired, please provide additional information on special circumstances or experiences you feel might provide insight into your potential for success in the Honors Program. This can be addressing a poor grade, a personal hardship, additional experience not represented above, or any information that will assist the Honors Program in making an informed admission decision. Please explain such information in a single page or less.
